

A symphony in "major" qualities and "minor" prices. It's the grandest chorus of Easter merchandise opportunities that will fall upon the half million listening ears in Washington. This is the week in which you expect most of us. When you properly rely upon us to provide the widest possible advantages. Your right as patrons. Our pride as leaders. We've put the very utmost power of command into this occasion. The highest talent in the world contributes of its skill and eleverness. Each feature on this programme is surpassing and surprising. We've never invited a heartier response than we feel sure will be accorded our efforts if self-profit and satisfaction are studied.

Children's Foliage. (First Floor, West.) An importer's quantity, and the quantity has lowered the price. Consists of two styles of Foliage—the most-in-demand kinds. By taking all of both lots we are enabled to offer you choice of 18c. values for

All the leading shapes, in double-brim braids, sewed by hand; not the machine-made hats you see elsewhere at this price. Worth most double, Choice

Untrimmed

(First Floor, West.)

The new era is evidently welcomed. We have demonstrated the integrity of our claim that Fine Hats can be produced and sold profitably at prices that double discount those that prevail generally. No sentiment induced the attempt. It appealed to us as a business possibility—and we have solved it successfully. The cleverest Paris creations serve us as models for faithful copy or to suggest features upon which our own millinery genius builds. You are assured of exclusiveness. You are vouchsafed an economy hitherto unknown in fine millinery. Abundant variety fills the cases—and renewals will come with each day throughout the week. If special orders are to be placed for Easter wear—may we ask that they be given us as early as possible—that delivery may be certain? We shall cry "stop"—when the rush threatens our painstaking. We don't want to disappoint. But we will not dissatisfy. for patrons of our Untrimmed Millinery

A Good Lesson for Good Dressers.

It is a lesson in economy. Economy that spares the purse—but not through the curtailment of worth.

We are giving this week a convincing demonstration of the peerle sness of Saks-made Clothing. An object lesson that is more eloquent than words. Recause it bankshes every prejudice that can exist against "tailoring ready for delivery." That is what Saks-Clothing is. The highest degree of sartorial art. Recognized as such by its legion of wearers—admitted (of course, reductantly) by its contemporaries.

It is not like ready-made Clothing. It's production is accomplished differently. Consequently the result is different. It is made BY US—and exclusively for us—except for three or four other leading firms, who want to maintain our standard.

Sum up in the most critical view—and but one conclusion is possible—that it is the FINEST CLOTHING THAT IS PRODUCED—the FINEST THAT IT IS POSSIBLE TO PRODUCE.

How easy for us to guarantee.

How reasonable that we should multiply—surely by four times—the Clothing-selling of any other store.

Lowest price is by our insistence—not by gauge of merit.

Easter suggests change—a good time to investigate if you don't already know of the merits. Strong temptations are held out in the following lots: Tan Covert Cloth Top Coats, cut the most popular length; made with welt front and welt seams; lined with Italian cloth. Worth $12.50.

Oxford Mixed Top Coats, silk lined all through, some to the edge; cut medium length, with full back and broad shoulders; Ragian cuff effect. $250 is its value..... Dark Grey Check Worsted Single-breasted Sack Suits, square-cut, with round corners; peaked lapel and military shoulders. You cannot hope to find one as good for less than $12.59.

Blue-effect Striped Cheviot Sack Suits: both coat and vest single-breasted; broad shoulders, stylish trousers; sturdy Italian linings; absolutely perfect fitting and thor-oughly made. Well worth $15.50. Genuine Grey Tweed Stits, single-breasted, with single-breasted high-cut vest, broad shoulders and Pants that are right in the height of fashion. View it as a $12.50 Suit for....

Black Vicuna Top Coats, cut extreme short length, and lined throughout with best oll-boiled silk, strictly all wool and fast color. The tailor who makes one for $25 is proud of his effort. of his effort.

Oxford Grey and Oxford Green Light-weight Ragians, with perfect shoulder and back; the Green with yoke effect in back; fine Italian body linings and silk sieeve linings; the only right Ragians. Intrinsically worth $60.

Plain Black Worsted Sack Suits, strictly all wool and fast color, cut in the latest style; lined with double-warp serge; full line of sizes. Par excellence at $20. Imported Fancy Chevlot Sack Suits, in exclusive patterns, with single-breasted Coats, high-buttoning Vests; Pants wide and tapering. We challenge a better Suit at $18.

Separate Fancy Worsted Dress Pants.

These are bargains by purchase from a maker who retires from the business; this meason's best light and dark custom patterns; perfect fitting and actually worth $4, 35, and $6.50 a pair. Choice.

Silks, worth up to 75c, 49c yd.

the symbol of a bird called Ziz, concerning which the Babtis have many fabulous accounts.

In a prayer written by Pope Pani V for the use of England, Ireland, and Scotland, the following passage occurs: 'Bless, O Lord, we beseech thee, this thy creature of exgs, that it may become a wholesome systemance to thy faithful servants eating it in thankfulness to thee, on account of the resurrection of our Lord.' A rare and curious tract of the year 1841 is entitled, 'To Slon's Lovers, Being a Golden Egg to Avoid Infection.' Eggs were evidently chemper at this sension of the year in the reign of Edward I of England than that of his present successor, judging from the following item in the accounts of Easter Sunday, taken from the 'Roll of the expenses of the household of 18—Edw. I'—'Four hundred and a half of eggs, 18 pence.' The purpose of the king in ordering so many eggs on this day was to have them stained or covered with gold leaf and distributed to the members of the royal household.

to have them stained or covered with gold leaf and distributed to the members of the royal household.

In Anglesey, North Wales, the children go from house to house from Monday antil Saturday in Easter week, announcing their presence by means of a chapper so that the door may be opened to them. If no eggs be in the house the youngsters are glad to receive compensating coppers. This custom prevailed formerly not only all over Wales but also in many portions of England and Scotland. At Wilmislow the following rhyme was used:

Please, Mr. Smith,
Please give us an Easter egg.
If you do not give us one,
Your ben shall by an addled one,
Your cock shall by a stone.

In the Northumberland County, in the corth of England, when a man asks, a woman for an egg on Easter Monday, and is refused, he takes off her boots until she pays a penalty. If a man refuses an egg at the request of a woman, she matches away his cap, and will not restore it usilf he pays a money-forfeit.

The use of artificial eggs made of sugar or filighree and enclosing quantities of bonhous, pictures, etc., has been cacroaching for the past half century upon the true Easter egg, and the time may come when the symbolism of the formar, as do as recorded history, shall have virtually passed away in this country.
